

Wade & Kaylee

Dear Mom,

We are Wade and Kaylee, and we are deeply thankful that you would take the time to look over our profile and consider us as parents to your precious baby. We do not take that consideration lightly. Your child would grow up with room to explore, learn responsibility, and develop a meaningful connection to nature, family, and community.

Our Life Together

"We built our life together on commitment, shared values, and a deep sense of home."

We live on an acreage in southwest Minnesota, where we can see South Dakota from our house. Our days are shaped by open space, changing seasons, and a steady rhythm of work and home life. We dated for several years before getting married in 2023, building a strong foundation rooted in commitment, respect, and shared values.

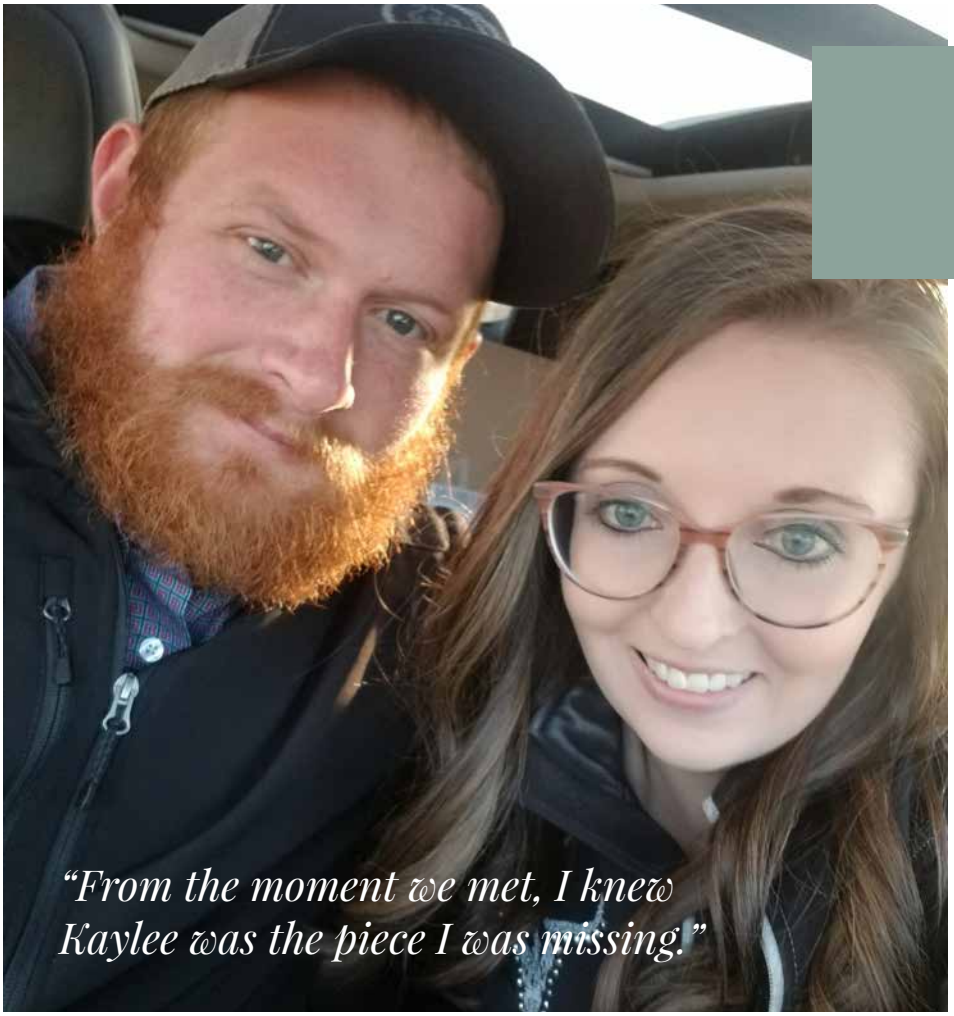

Wade works for our hometown, where he does snow removal, helps maintain parks and recreation areas, and supports other needs required by the city. Kaylee works from home for a medical facility, analyzing patient records. Our careers allow us stability while still keeping us closely connected to our community and to life at home.

My wife is patient, flexible, understanding, and strong. She values having a plan, staying organized, and creating a calm and thoughtful environment. Kaylee grew up on a farm outside a small town in Iowa with her parents, brother, dogs, cattle, cats, poultry, rabbits, sheep, and goats. Some of those animals were even shown in 4-H competitions.

From the moment we met, I knew Kaylee was the piece I was missing. When I watch her interact with young children, I see her natural warmth and attentiveness. I know without a doubt that she is going to be an amazing, nurturing, and present mother.

"He is the first person to drop what he is doing to help someone else."

My husband is patient, supportive, determined, and has a way of keeping life fun. Wade can be quiet and reserved, but he is also the first person to drop what he is doing to help someone else. His kindness shows most clearly through his actions.

Wade grew up on a farm outside a small town in Minnesota with his parents, one brother, and various cats, dogs, and cattle. As an adult, he continued the farm life, purchasing a rural building site with his dad at 20 years old, and more recently the house and acreage we own and plan to call home for a very long time.

I have no doubt that Wade will be a strong, loving, and steady father. My mom knew Wade was the one when I said, "I just adore him."

Family & Friends

Rebel is our senior yellow lab and a true good old boy. He enjoys being around his people and supervising the daily goings on of the farm. In his senior years, he enjoys retirement indoors, spending his time sleeping and basking in the sun. He is gentle, loyal, and very much a part of our family.

We hope to raise a child who is independent, caring, and hardworking. We believe in offering gentle guidance and leading by example. Our goal is to raise a child who respects nature, animals, and the farming lifestyle while also feeling secure, supported, and deeply loved.

We offer a stable home, open land to explore and play on, and a strong support system. Our parents and extended families are very important to us and will be present through times of both challenge and celebration.

"We believe in gentle guidance, leading by example, and creating a secure, loving home."

Our Thoughts on Adoption

Becoming parents has been challenging due to infertility, but that journey has made us a stronger and more united couple. We believe God is preparing us to be the parents we are meant to be. We are open to an adoption plan that honors connection and would be truly privileged to get to know you.

"We promise to love, protect, and care for your child as our own."

We are sincerely thankful and feel blessed that you have taken the time to review our profile. We promise to love, protect, and care for your child as our own, every single day.

With love, Wade and Kaylee
